

Garden Success Reflection Worksheet

Use this worksheet to reflect on what went well in your garden this season. Celebrating successes—big or small—helps you carry joy, wisdom, and gratitude into the next season.

Reflection Questions

- Which crops thrived with little effort?
- Which plants tasted best or stored longest?
- Which flowers or herbs brought the most joy?
- Which garden rhythms (watering, journaling, observation) supported you most?
- Where did you feel most connected to God in your garden this season?

Gratitude List

Write three things you are most grateful for in your garden this season:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Lessons for Next Year

What worked well that you'd like to repeat or expand?

What new timing, spacing, or methods should you try based on this year's success?

Journal Prompt

What garden successes, big or small, are you most grateful for this season? How do they reflect God's goodness in your life?

Grace Note

Friend, your garden doesn't have to be perfect to be fruitful. Reflecting on successes reminds you that beauty and abundance are already present, even in small ways. May gratitude lift your heart and inspire hope for seasons yet to come.
